Detailed Action

Response to Amendment

Claims 1-20 are pending. This action is in response to the amendment received September 7, 2005.

Response to Arguments

The rejection of claims 1-20 under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) and (e) as being unpatentable over Parthasarathy (US 2003/0036993) is maintained.

Applicant's arguments filed September 7, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to the arguments concerning the previously rejected claims the following comments are made:

A.) In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., automatically matches borrowers and lenders and creates a secured loan agreement; plurality of borrowers; plurality of lenders; a borrower incorporating unaltered the attributes from the lender's offer to lend and the attributes from the borrower's offer to borrow) are not recited in the rejected claim 1. Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

B.) Applicant alleges that the prior art made of record fails to teach plurality of borrowers and plurality of lenders. The examiner disagrees with applicant's representative since

Art Unit: 3624

Parthasarathy teaches plurality of borrowers and plurality of lenders (para. 0012, 0015, 0035, and 0046). In other words, Parthasarathy teaches plurality of borrowers and plurality of lenders to initiate and complete a loan process.

With regards to the claims rejected as anticipated over Parthasarathy, the examiner would like to point out that the reference teaches the claimed limitations and thus provides adequate support for the claimed limitations. Therefore, the examiner maintains that Parthasarathy anticipated the claimed limitations.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 3-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Claims 3-20 have been amended to recited "incorporating unaltered the attributes from the lender's offer to lend and attributes from the borrower's offer to borrow" which does not appear to be in the originally filed specification. Thus, the recitation must be treated as "new matter". However, if the applicant does not believe that this subject matter is "new matter", an appropriate explanation is required including pointing out where support for this subject matter can be found in the origin specification.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
